To Whom It may Concern,

We recently contracted Precision Painting for painting the outside of our house. Chad Ebbert and the crew did more then they promised, and they promised a lot. Every step, starting with planning and through budgeting, preparing, painting, quality check and human interactions were very professional and pleasant. They promised and kept the level of mess and inconvenience to a barely noticed minimum (Thank you John & John); started and finished in time, price was right and the house looks beautiful.

It is without hesitation that we warmly recommend Precision Painting.

Sincerely,

Avigail & marc Snir
