To Whom It May Concern:-

Ref: Precision Painting

It is my pleasure to provide a reference letter for Chad Ebbert and his crew at Precision Painting. I had often listened to Stevie Jay advertise their services on the radio, so my husband and I decided to contact Chad for an estimate. We are experienced house updaters having built our home twenty-two years ago, adding three rooms over the years, and having just completed an extensive six-month kitchen remodel. Thus said, we are familiar with a variety of contractors and their styles. In addition to our remodel experience, I am a very particular client.

Chad was extremely personable, ensured that our needs were going to be met, and came in on time, and on budget. He was also able to accommodate the extra room we wanted completed during the project. His staff are some of the best painters we have seen. They were skilled at wall repair, accommodating, worked hard while they were on-site and very personable. They moved our furniture for us as part of the project, and even remembered its original placement. Chad was always available through-out the project for consultation and kept us informed. At the end of the project he made sure that we were satisfied.

Rarely, in this day and age, do you receive not only a great end-product, but great customer service through out the project. Precision Painting provided both. My husband and I highly recommend Chad and Precision Painting. The combination of performance and customer service can't be beat.

Sincerely,

Joyce and Stan Changnon
